DEMO TIPS

 Before you take a customer out on a scheduled test drive, synchronize your Bluetooth® wireless technology enabled phone with the in-vehicle system to demonstrate how you can seamlessly connect an existing, ongoing call with the built-in hands-free system. Customers will appreciate the convenience and enhanced driving safety the system provides, whether taking personal or business calls.

 A great demonstration to start off a Tundra test drive is to drive the truck into a garage-sized space. This will show the effectiveness of the available front and rear parking assist sonar†. Tundra is a big vehicle, and parking it in a standard garage may intimidate some customers. The sonar† system adds a level of confidence that the vehicle can be easily maneuvered and parked without damage.

 Tundra's available backup camera† provides a great demonstration opportunity when out on a test drive. Back the truck up to a low concrete pole or other obstacle that's impossible to see with the mirrors, yet can cause big damage. Don't forget to mention that the backup camera† makes backing up to a trailer easier too.

QUICK FACTS

 Tundra is assembled in San Antonio, Texas with a high proportion of U.S.-made parts. In fact, its U.S. content, among other criteria, has helped make Tundra a staple on Cars.com's Top 10 American-Made Index every year since Tundra's new-model introduction in 2007. No other competitor can make that claim in the full-size pickup segment.

 Not only did Tundra receive the 2014 KBB.com Best Resale Value Award from Kelley Blue Book's KBB.com, it was a 2014 Lowest Ownership Cost winner for Regular Cab models for a full-size pickup by IntelliChoice.com.

 Tundra has also been named a "Best Overall Value" in Full-Size Pickup Trucks for 2014 by Intellichoice, and was named a 2014 Excellent Value by IntelliChoice.com.

 The new TRD Pro model was torture-tested in expeditions through California's high desert. TRD engineers worked alongside Toyota engineers to improve Tundra's suspension and off-road capabilities as a package, adding more robust components, purposeful off-road tuning and enhanced dampening. This thorough development helps make the most of Tundra's geometry for off-road use while ensuring quality, durability and reliability, all backed by the factory 3-year/36,000-mile warranty.
